CUBA

Certain hemisphere governments which will not vote for Cuba for obvious reasons will certainly think of presenting an alternative candidacy in order to obtain unanimity. In the assembly, however, there is no doubt that Cuba will get the votes of the majority. This means the votes of the socialist countries, of the majority of the Arab-Asian bloc, with the exception of the group of African countries which are pro-French, of a certain country of Western Europe, and possibly of an American republic which wants to do justice to our fight, prove its independent stand, and adjust its policy to the manifest will of the peoples. This will probably not be enough to obtain the necessary two-thirds majority of the votes, but it will be more than enough to defeat Guatemala, in the unlikely case that its unjustified aspiration for a seat in the Security Council should reach the floor of the Assembly."

CIA REORGANIZES FOR NEW ADVENTURES

Havana Radio Rebelde in Spanish 1800 GMT 3 July 1961--F

(Summary) According to disclosures made yesterday by the NEW YORK TIMES, the United States is reorganizing the Central Intelligence Agency. From now on, by express recommendation of the notorious warmonger, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the military operations will be administered by the Secretary of Defense. "Mr. Allen Dulles, director of the agency, and Mr. Richard Bissell, assistant director in charge of the operation against Cuba, will be replaced in their respective posts by other persons who, in the opinion of Mr. Kennedy, offer better guarantees of success."

The NEW YORK TIMES also disclosed that the U.S. Government persists in its plans of military aggression against Cuba through mercenary groups. Subsequently, the NEW YORK TIMES said that the defense department will be in charge of training and advising foreign anticommunist fighters. As can be seen, these disclosures of the NEW YORK TIMES indicate that imperialism is making desperate attempts to recover from the tremendous impact resulting from the bloody adventure of Playa Giron.

There is no other meaning in this unusual reorganization within the North American intelligence organizations. But in addition, these disclosures show us that the extraordinary (feat?) of the people in the Zapata swamps--despite its political and military importance and the world repercussions of this victory--does not signify in any way a definitive defeat of the imperialists plans. It does not mean at all that the imperialists are going to give up their plans of reconquering in Cuba the privileges that they have lost. The events in Playa Giron do not constitute either the first or the last victory of the revolution and they do not mean either the first or the last defeat of imperialism.
